

COREY BARKLEY

I am Corey Barkley. I am currently studying Actuarial Science at Temple University. One thing I love to do is solve problems (usually math related). The solution to a problem isn't always straight forward and often times needs to be very creative. This is why I place such a high value on learning and knowing as much as I possibly can because that enables me to clearly understand a situation and begin to craft a solution. Outside of studying for school (and my future career), I have a number of different hobbies some of which include playing tennis, playing piano, and solving rubik's cubes.

I am excited to be able to contribute to this organization and look forward to working with you this summer.

AMY THOMAS

Hi! My name is Amy Thomas and I am a junior at Temple University studying Actuarial Science. I am originally from New Jersey but the opportunity of making an impact at a university where absolutely no one knew my name lured me to Philadelphia.

I'm a sucker for crunching numbers and have an even greater love for music and designing. I am currently the president of my Adventist [Christian] group, Temple Adventist Students for Christ, and have held this position for two years. I also play intramural volleyball every Fall at Temple and was captain in 2017.

I aspire to become a successful actuary one day, influencing others with my love for Christ along the way. I always strive to put my best foot forward and give projects and assignments my all with a willing heart. I hope that this mentality will motivate others to do the same!

JIMMIE CIANFARO
